

Dear DogsNT Members,

My name is Deborah Brackenreg – you may know me better as the owner and exhibitor of RUBIS and BIG winning Irish Wolfhounds!

I am standing for re-election so that I can assist the Council with my legal skills and continue my dedication to our beautiful dogs.

As a long-time advocate of the needs and welfare of dogs, I have experience working at all levels of management from Clubs, Member Bodies, and both charitable and Government Organisations. My passion for Animal Welfare is such that I have carried this over in my professional life as a Solicitor. I am more of a behind-the-scenes-person, but that does not mean I am not kept busy working tirelessly for animal welfare and in the interests of DogsNT.

I hold a standing position as NT co-ordinator on the Barristers Animal Welfare Panel and have been a long-term committee member of the CDU Animal Ethics Committee.

My leadership and advisory skills are exceptional and have enabled me to build strong engagement and relationships. With my empathetic negotiation, mediation and conflict resolution skills, I aim to achieve optimal outcomes for all parties. I have brought these skills to my position on Council, as a member of a Complaints Panel, and generally guiding matters to a fair and just outcome.

I am very approachable if you see me out and about, and love nothing more than a chat about dogs, especially Irish Wolfhounds and other rare breeds.

I look forward to receiving your vote and, hopefully, another term on the DogsNT Council.

Kind regards,
Deborah
